Simple overview of our project:

''To view page as intended open login.html first''

Login Page:

- To login fill in the fields with this information:

      Username: user
      Password: pass

Appointments Page:

- Buttons are clickable to be used as canceling events, but it currently has no functionality and doesn't remove the list

Tutor Page:

- You can search the Tutors names to load a list of users to only show results based on your criteria

Profile Page:

- No functionality on this page, but we are wanting to allow users to update their profile pic, and set up much more information which we wouldn't be able to do on a simple front end page in HTML and CSS only.

FAQ Page:

- Some simple page that shows some different functionalities of Tutor Rooms (Our product name). We also want to eventually implement a chat bot into this for extra questions and assistance.
